THE 1957

Tiger Stripes

BECAUSE they taught us to appreciate our heritage of a rural life and to enjoy the privileges of working;

BECAUSE they instilled in us the thoughts that men live by;

BECAUSE they encouraged us to grow tall with the corn, to bend when the rains come, to sing with the wind, and to bow with humility;

WE, the students of Chatfield High School, dedicate the 1957 Tiger Stripe to the citizens of the community.

Symbolic of the educational ideal is this monument to Horace Mann—a visionary, humanitarian, educator. The administrators and teachers of our school foster his teachings and example.

Schools Your Investment in America

Good schools should be the real concern
 Of all who cherish liberty,
 For here the growing mind shall learn
 How knowledge makes men truly free.

By lighting lamps of thought today
 For those tomorrow's world shall need
 Our public schools must lead the way
 In sowing Freedom's precious seed.

In passing on those great ideals
 Of justice and equality,
 The basic goodness that appeals
 To every youth's integrity.

We must make sure when we invest
 In classrooms that we understand
 What constitutes the very best
 In Education for our land.

We must act on the vital truth,
 That Freedom is essentially
 The priceless heritage of youth,
AND OUR RESPONSIBILITY!

The School In The Community

The school is a community within a community. It is a community of students and teachers cooperating in learning experiences. The heart of cooperation is interest, for this is essential to learning. The school is also society's institution for self perpetuation. It is logical then, that the direction of instruction is determined by student interests and the dictates of society, the larger community.

Schooling is both preparation for life and life itself. The school's curriculum is as broad as the total range of life. It is related to life's problems and expectations. It is the school's responsibility to consider all aspects of man's experiences. The basic skills as reading, writing, and computation are mastered in the elementary and intermediate grades. Preparation for sensitive citizenship and a place in the work world is made in the upper grades.

The school does not moralize. Its function is not to say that this action is right or wrong. It does insist, however, that one first examine the consequence and then pursue the action this demands. Go and do by direction and purpose; not by default and by chance. The school uses this method because it believes this is the way that truth for the individual can best be realized. What is true and good for the individual remains such for the community because the community is individuals in mass.

Bus Drivers

"Come rain or sleet" these four men have driven the school buses.

We extend a warm thank-you to each driver for his sense of humor which keeps things pleasant and for his patience in transporting us safely to and from school.

Custodian

Mr. Reuben Geissman is the man responsible for keeping Chatfield Local in condition. He has certainly done his job well and has won the friendship of every student. Reuben is always willing to do "extra" jobs for us and we want to congratulate him for his fine work.

Office Help

"Take this letter please" is the phrase these girls hear during the year. They assist the superintendent in the office. We also recognize our mail carrier who seemed to withstand the cold very well.

Grade One

On September 4, 1956, ten boys and twelve girls began the adjustment to a new phase of life. They were starting their first year of formal education under the guidance of Mrs. Clady. New habits and friends were made as well as learning the ABC's.

The first of their class parties was at Halloween when the students made their own masks. At Christmas the entire group helped in creating decorations for an unusual seasonal tree. Handicraft was again shown when valentines were made for a gay valentine party.

The "100 Club" was an unique attraction of the year. A bulletin board display illustrated each pupil's ability to count and write to one hundred, an accomplishment necessary to become a full-fledged member of the club.

The first grade made two public appearances during the year. The first was at a P. T. A. program when choral verses were recited. Later they participated in the grade operetta by playing in the rhythm band.

The second grade has the distinction of being the largest class in the school this year. At one time the enrollment reached twenty-nine but was dropped to twenty-five with the withdrawal of four students. Mrs. Phelan is the teacher of this fine group.

Their first stage appearance of the year was made when the class took part in the Thanksgiving entertainment for the P. T. A.

Colorful crayon and water color drawings were made by these students and were sent to children of foreign lands through the "Art for World Friendship Committee." Equally beautiful and interesting pictures were received in exchange.

Parties were also a part of the year's activities taking place at Halloween, Christmas, and Valentines Day.

This year the third grade enrollment reached a total of nineteen students.

Their school day was a bit different throughout the year with mornings being spent with Mrs. Feichtner studying arithmetic, science, and writing; while afternoons were given to reading, spelling, and English with Mrs. Ross.

Besides holiday parties at Halloween, Christmas and Valentines day, they had one other important highlight which will be remembered. At the November P. T. A. program, the third grade gave a play, "The First Thanksgiving," wearing costumes resembling Indians which they themselves had made.

Eighteen students started their fourth year of schooling last September and were joined by Karen Gottfried in January.

Holiday time was again party time in this class at Halloween, Christmas, and Valentines day. Art abilities were exercised in these events by making costumes, gifts for parents and valentines. Besides these projects, these students displayed some very fine art craft in chalk and crayon drawings.

Interesting and informative studies were also made this year in the fields of science and social studies.

Grades five and six studied together in the same classroom this year and were under the teaching of Miss Krichbaum. Altogether there were nineteen students. Shortly after the beginning of the second semester, Mary Lou Johnson and David Gallant were enrolled in the sixth grade.

At Christmas time, the fifth graders entertained the sixth graders at a Christmas party. In preparation for this, decorations were made and refreshments, games and a gift exchange were planned. Also during the Christmas season was the presentation of a play, "Christmas at Woodchuck Hollow School," for P. T. A. program.

The sixth grade returned the party invitation by asking the fifth grade to Halloween and Valentine parties which were equally well planned and enjoyed.

Exceptionally interesting studies were made during the year in the science field. Experiments were conducted with bacteria and a field trip was taken in the woods for a nature study.

Forty five minutes for one class instead of the usual twenty--long study periods for preparing lessons--no recesses; but, in spite of difficult adjustments, many new freedoms and advantages have been discovered; and we have come to like it very much.

At the beginning of the school year we elected the following people to the respective offices:

President Dorothy Kalb
Vice-President Marcia May
Secretary Janet Kalb
Treasurer Janet Green
Student Council Judy Tobin
News Reporter Sylvia Kalb

We enjoyed a field trip with the eighth grade when we visited the water works and sewage disposal plant in Bucyrus, Ohio.

We started out this school year with twenty-two students. However, Duane Songer and Francis Lewis withdrew, leaving us with our present total of twenty.

A Christmas Party, which was held at the school house, was enjoyed by all of us. For entertainment, many games were played, with the main feature of the evening being a gift exchange. Of course, there were refreshments.

This spring, our knowledge of history, science, arithmetic, and English was tested when we took the Eighth Grade Examination, which was given by the State Dept. of Education. We were rated with other eighth graders from the county and state.

The class officers elected for the year were:

The school year 1956-1957 finds us enrolled for the first time in Chatfield High. After the traditional and none-the-less brutal initiation in October, we felt that we really belonged. To the High School we have added fourteen students of the most enthusiastic examples of "green" material ever to join our school. At the beginning of the second semester our number increased to sixteen when Elenor and William Gottfried entered our class.

The class officers for the year were:

President June Tobin
Vice-President Neil Feichtner
Secretary Joan Kocher
Treasurer Barbara Feichtner
News Reporter Janet Marquart
Student Council Jule Ostermyer

Just before the basketball season began we gave a "Kick Off" dance. Another money making project was our bake sale in February held at the Second National Bank.

We presented a chapel in February having as guests an octet from Bluffton College who gave an excellent program of singing and instrumental selections.

We gave a high school party to honor the seniors during the first part of May.

Secretary	Karen Ostermyer
Treasurer	Richard Redman
News Reporter	Joan Green
Student Council	Robert Lutz

Several money-making projects were sponsored throughout the year including the collection of sales tax stamps and pop bottles.

On March 8, the high school and faculty were invited to our party which was centered around a Western theme.

A chapel service was also sponsored with Pastor John Blix Lind, from St. Paul's Lutheran Church, as our speaker. Besides an interesting and informative object lesson, Rev. Lind also honored the student body with an exceptional piano solo.

The biggest event for us was, of course, the annual Junior-Senior Banquet. For this event we traveled to Fostoria. Following the banquet, Chatfield, along with three other schools, Whetstone, Mt. Zion, and Leesville journeyed to North Robinson for added entertainment.

December was a busy month for us. We presented the Christmas Cahpel with Rev. McVey as our speaker and the Girl's Glee Club singing several Christmas numbers. Our Christmas Party was held December 21. A gift exchange was the high-light of the evening, and of course Santa Claus was our honored guest.

In order to bolster our treasury, we sponsored several money-making projects which included a scrap drive, a record hop, a skating party and a bake sale.

Activities

Student Council

Each class from seven to twelve elects one of its members to represent them in the Student Council. When this group meets they consider the problems and desires of the student body. Their activities have been directed by Mr. Brause.

With the money earned from the magazine sales, they purchased a record player. They sponsored interesting assembly programs throughout the year and scheduled chapels which were held each month. The Homecoming and May Day programs were also under their direction. For added intra-mural activity, they sponsored a boy's and a girls' ping pong tournament. A trophy was awarded to the winner of each.

ORIENTAL

GARDENS

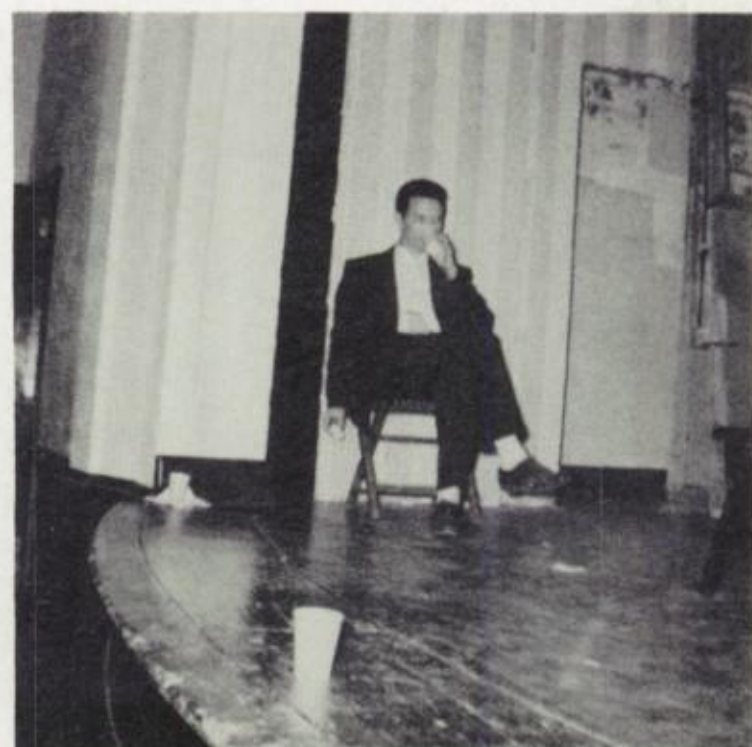

The dining hall at Morton's Motel was the scene of the 1956 Junior and Senior Banquet held on May 12. Each person, upon entering the banquet room, beheld the gala setting of an "Oriental Garden." The mystic atmosphere was accented by colorful lanterns and lighted black candles burning gold. The tables were beautifully decorated with small rickshas filled with cherry blossoms, little Chinese scenes and miniature bowls and chopsticks. This important and exciting evening began with a delicious meal. The theme was also carried out in the music and toasts. The final event of the evening included dancing, movies, and refreshments held at Whetstone High School. This night will always live in the minds of those present at the "ORIENTAL GARDENS."

Karen Kalb, sophomore, won first in the state in the "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest. Here she is receiving her ticket for Las Vegas.

On January 17, Karen Kalb left for Las Vegas, Nevada, where she competed for top awards in the national finals of the tenth annual "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest. Judging of championship fashions was on the attractiveness, workmanship, and on the fashion judgement which led to the selection of the colors and fabrics. Karen was a guest of the Sahara Hotel in Las Vegas and went on trips to various points of interest which included tours of Death Valley and Hoover Dam.

Numerous activities have kept the Photography Club active this year. Cameras have been clicking on every thing from trick shots to long exposures. Tinting and enlarging have also been on our agenda. Interesting demonstrations were performed by club members. We also had an instructive film on photography. Jim Kalb, our president, and several of our members have helped with the photography of this years annual. Mr. Trumbull, our sponsor, has been very helpful and patient as our sponsor.

COACH AND ASSISTANT

If you haven't noticed, this year all the G.A.A. girls have very trim figures. This is due to participating in calisthenics, softball, basketball, volleyball and track. Their basketball record was:

Holmes Liberty	10	Chatfield	16
Tiro	18	Chatfield	26
Sulphur Springs	12	Chatfield	22
North Robinson	9	Chatfield	31

The girls sponsored a party in the spring, using the money they raised by selling refreshments at basketball games.

The officers elected for the school year were: President, Rosalind Volk; Vice-President, Margie Schanzenbach; Secretary, Eunice Zucker; Treasurer, Helen Kocher.

The Last Word

After many busy nights of work in the home ec. room, the 1957 TIGER STRIPE has been completed. All is now quiet about me. The typewriter clicking, friendly laughter, and the buzz of working people are silenced.

A glance about the room brings back many thoughts and memories. The waste paper basket has possession of many blown flash bulbs, photo scraps, and exposed paper which bear evidence of the work of the photographers. Pens, India ink, and rulers are the sign of the artist's desk while a sticky table and snips of paper mark the way of those who labored long hours on layouts. The copywriters have left an array of write-ups along with inquiry letters to the alumni. A neat stack of receipts tell of the work involved in managing the finances. Of course, we find a little of everything on Mrs. Durbin's desk whose guidance, initiative, and assistance have been priceless.

Humorous incidents come to mind such as eating cheese and crackers, drinking tea, enjoying Jim Kalb's calypso serenades, and losing the freshman class.

Now the last write-up has been written, the last picture developed, and the last page planned and pasted. The only job now remaining is to clear my desk and make room for next year's editor. No longer will there be sleepless nights and sleepy classes. Once again assignments will be completed and free evenings enjoyed.

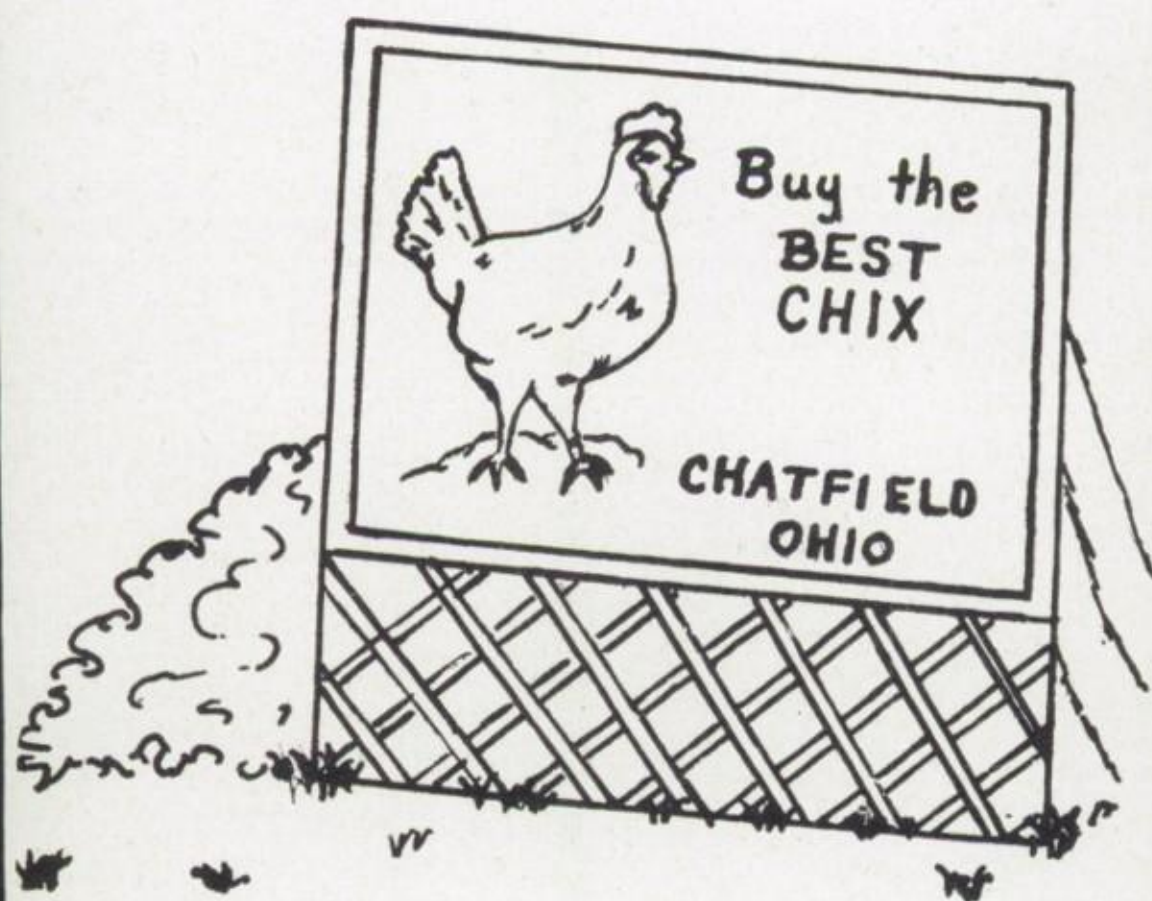

Through our work, we have known the birth of this book, its development, and now its conclusion. We have worked so diligently on this project that we have come to feel it is OUR book. Our book because we have created it. But this is not true. It is YOUR book, a book created and designed especially for you. It is a book of YOUR school, My school, OUR school.....least we forget.

Here comes a Capitalist!

It could be the president of a big corporation ...or the president of a bank...or the President of the U.S.A. But it isn't any of these. It's the worker who helped build the car he owns...who has stock in the company he works for...and cash in the bank for the future.

In America everyone who earns and saves is a capitalist-a stockholder in the free enterprise system that makes America's standard of living the highest in the world. Working and saving in this way produces lasting benefits for all.

So when someone calls you a capitalist, stick out your chest. He's saying that you are a member of the American productive team. Who wants to be anything else?

We invite you to bank your dollars here-where you have multiple safeguards for your money...where every account is important, regardless of its size.
